

Present

The Financial Benefits of Sustainability

An Evening of Humor and Insight

Experts discuss how Sustainable Business Practices create value, profit, and business opportunities.

MAY 6TH, 7:30PM

WELLESLEY COLLEGE: SCIENCE CENTER AUDITORIUM

The evening features Yoram Bauman, the Stand-up Economist—a stand-up comedian and economist—sharing his insightful views on the economic impacts of climate change and sustainability through comedy!

In addition, a panel of financial and sustainability experts will provide a lively interactive discussion on how organizations are implementing sustainable business practices to create value, profit, and opportunities. Panelists Include:

Patrick Araujo-Lipine

Credit Research and Sustainability Analyst, Breckinridge Capital Advisors

Adding value to investor portfolios through appreciation of sustainability

Carol Atwood

Co-Founder and Principal, Spartacus Capital; Board Member, King Arthur Flour
Financial benefits of implementing sustainability strategies

Richard T. Bliss, PhD

Professor of Finance, Babson College
Improving ROI and shareholder value through practicing social responsibility

Amy Boyd

Senior Attorney, Acadia Center
Energy efficiency programs and incentives to improve bottom line

Henry Tepper

President, Mass Audubon
Financial and sustainable benefits of climate-resilient land conservation and carbon credits

Reserve Your Complimentary Tickets at www.SustainableWellesley.com

Share topics you would like to have discussed and questions you would like to have answered ahead of time to: info@sustainablewellesley.com.